Outreach Courses

Most courses are FREE and presented at your facility or at the Parkview Adult Trauma Center and Parkview Pediatric Trauma Center. While average course hours are listed for each course, each one can be condensed and tailored to your specific needs.

Contact Chris Scheumann by phone at (260) 266-1277 or Christopher.Scheumann@parkview.com to schedule a training date.

NEW! Difficult Airway Roadshow — Lessons Learned in the Cadaver Lab (3.0)

This course is designed for providers directly or indirectly involved in advanced airway management. Focus is on recognizing the difficult airway and optimizing intubation success. Includes review of evidence-based techniques, confirmed in both the real-life setting and experiences in the cadaver lab.

NEW! Pediatric Airway Management (2.0)

This course is for providers who are directly or indirectly involved in airway management for children under age 14. Focus is on recognizing the differences in pediatric airway management and interactively applying these principles to real-life practice.

NEW! Rapid Sequence Intubation and Rapid Sequence Airway (3.0)

This course is intended for providers who perform airway management utilizing pharmacological assistance. Focus is on preparation, optimizing success and prevention of negative outcomes related to these procedures.

NEW! Waveform Quantitative Capnography: Beyond Tube Confirmation (2.0)

This course is designed for providers utilizing capnography, and will explore the many uses of this patient monitoring device. Focus will be on waveform analysis, relevance of the numerical reading and common pitfalls related to its use.

Inside the Trauma System (2.0)

This presentation gives an inside view of the trauma system, from EMS response to rehab and everything in between.

Adult Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Basic (4.0)

This course is designed for all EMS personnel and teaches current adult trauma care standards. Heavy emphasis is placed on the ABCDE assessment and care model.

Adult Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Advanced (5.0)

This course includes basic adult trauma tactics with the additional topic of current fluid resuscitation standards in trauma care.

Adult Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Paramedic (6.0)

This course includes all of the basic and advanced adult trauma tactics as well as paramedic skill-related topics that include advanced airway management and advanced pneumothoraces management.

Adult Trauma Tactics for the Registered Nurse (8.0)

This course is designed for emergency care nurses who encounter trauma patients with minor to major injuries on a not-so-frequent basis. Current standards established by the American College of Surgeons are reviewed. Topics include: initial assessment and management, airway and ventilatory management, shock, thoracic trauma, abdominal and pelvic trauma, head trauma, spine and spinal cord trauma, musculoskeletal trauma, thermal injuries, geriatric trauma, trauma during pregnancy, and transfer to definitive care.

Pediatric Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Basic (2.0)

This course is designed for all EMS personnel and teaches current pediatric trauma care standards. Heavy emphasis is placed on the ABCDE assessment and care model.

Pediatric Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Advanced (3.0)

This course includes basic pediatric trauma tactics with the additional topic of current fluid resuscitation standards in trauma care.

Pediatric Trauma Tactics for the EMT — Paramedic (4.0)

This course includes basic and advanced pediatric trauma tactics as well as paramedic skill-related topics that include advanced pediatric airway management and pneumothoraces management.

Pediatric Trauma Tactics for the Registered Nurse (6.0)

This course is designed for emergency nurses who encounter pediatric trauma patients on a not-so-frequent basis. Current standards established by the American College of Surgeons are reviewed. Topics include: unique characteristics of pediatric patients, airway evaluation and management, breathing evaluation and management, circulation and shock evaluation and management, chest trauma, abdominal trauma, head trauma, spinal cord injury, musculoskeletal trauma and caring for abused children.

ACLS for Experienced Providers (ACLS-EP) (2.0)

This is a non-certification version of the course that covers current AHA standards for care related to hypothermia, drowning, trauma, electrocution, mass casualties and terrorism.

Rural Trauma Team Development Course® (RTTDC®) (8.0)

This course was developed by the ad hoc Rural Trauma Committee of the American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma to help rural hospitals develop their trauma teams. The course is designed to improve quality of care in the community by developing a timely, organized, rational response to the care of trauma patients, as well as a team approach that addresses the common problems in initial assessment and stabilization of the injured patient.

Difficult Airway Roadshow (6.0)

This course is designed for providers at all levels, especially those who provide or assist with advanced airway management. Topics include optimizing bag-valve-mask ventilation, intubation, recognition of difficult airways, alternative airways and rapid-sequence intubation.

Farm Trauma Tactics for the EMS Provider (2.0)

This course is designed to educate the EMS provider on common dangers and injuries associated with the farming industry. Topics include: the mechanics of extrication, extrication tools, tractors, combines, agricultural equipment, grain and silage storage facility rescues and animal-related incidents.

A DVD training video will be provided to each facility after the initial presentation, to facilitate future training events.

Individual Case Studies (2.0 average, varies)

Review aspects of trauma cases from your own facility: pre-hospital assessment findings and treatments, trauma center course of treatment, patient progression to rehabilitation, and overall outcomes.

Parkview Trauma Care Observation Program

This ongoing visitation experience provides opportunities for trauma care providers to observe patient care in the emergency care center, operating room, trauma intensive care unit, trauma clinic and other acute care areas. Contact Chris Scheumann for more information. See page 1.

Opportunities Offered by the Parkview Samaritan Flight Program

Parkview Samaritan Scene Safety Training

This course prepares all pre-hospital and hospital providers to set up a safe landing zone, secure your hospital helipad and identify patient care considerations for flight requests.

Contact Cathy Harris at (260) 373-3540 or Cathy.Harris@parkview.com to set up your department's individual safety training program.

Parkview Samaritan Custom In-services

Parkview Samaritan offers a wide variety of other non-certification in-service opportunities.

Contact Cathy Harris at (260) 373-3540 or Cathy.Harris@parkview.com to discuss.

Program for Emergency Communicators

Parkview Samaritan Dispatch Center Operations has developed an informative training session for emergency communicators, 9-1-1 dispatchers, emergency room nurses and hospital unit secretaries because these individuals play a critical part in requesting an air medical, or mobile intensive care unit. The goal is to reduce response times and discuss what goes on behind the scenes when a request is made for rapid transport. Topics include: benefits of air and ground transport, when to request an aircraft or mobile intensive care unit (MICU), landing zone information, safety and inter-facility or scene transports.

Contact Phil Cuttriss, Parkview Samaritan Dispatch, at (800) 727-6911 or by e-mail to Phil.Cuttriss@parkview.com for more information.

Trauma Prevention

We all want a safe and healthy community. With this commitment driving our mission, Parkview is home to the region's first verified adult and pediatric center. The Parkview Adult and Pediatric Trauma Centers treat more than 1,800 trauma patients each year. Parkview's goal is to treat injured patients while also playing an active role in preventing trauma. To that end, Parkview offers several injury prevention programs.

Parent/Teen Driving Contract Seminar

March date: TBA

Parkview Corporate Office

10501 Corporate Drive, Fort Wayne, IN 46845

This FREE two-hour seminar helps parents and their new teen drivers develop a personalized driving contract. Driving contracts help set up guidelines, driving rules and the consequences if rules are broken. A short classroom presentation, complete with powerful video clips from real-life crashes, is also shown. The presenter is Alex Antalis, MD, ER physician, Parkview Hospital and Professional Emergency Physicians. He is very passionate about teen driving safety because he sees first-hand the devastating effects of car crashes. Dr. Antalis also speaks with special insight because he has had three teenagers of his own. To register, call (866) 784-6706.

Bike Helmet Safety

FREE large-group presentations or displays on the importance of bike helmet safety are available. These presentations are complete with a video on bike safety and a melon-drop demonstration that shows children why helmet use is so important. The presentation is geared to children ages 3 to 14.

To schedule a presentation, display or bike safety rodeo for your group, call (260) 373-8900.

Parkview Safety Store

Parkview Hospital has a safety store located at 1818 Carew St., Suite 140, Fort Wayne. The store sells numerous sports helmets at a discounted price and provides free car-seat safety inspections without appointment. Home drug testing kits are also available. The safety store is open every Wednesday from 4 to 7 p.m. all year.

CarFit® for Senior Drivers

Parkview and the local AAA office offer a free program for elderly drivers called CarFit®. Vehicles are inspected to increase safety by confirming that vehicle settings for operation are positioned correctly and functioning properly.

A physical therapist on site can make recommendations for therapy if the senior is in need. Call (260) 373-7201 for the date of the next CarFit program.

CarFit® is a program sponsored by AAA, AARP and the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA).

Don't Drink and Drive

Free presentations or displays are offered to your group or event. The presentations offer a personal life story related to a drunk-driving death. The very powerful presentation is known for capturing the attention of even restless teens. Fatal vision glasses are also available for participants, so they can safely experience what they would feel when driving drunk with impaired vision. To schedule a presentation, call (260) 373-8900.

Don't Text & Drive

Texting while driving is a major concern, both in our community and nationwide. Our community is experiencing many car crashes, and even fatalities, from this hazardous practice. For more information, or to schedule a presentation, call (260) 373-7201. To purchase Don't Text & Drive logo wear, go to www.facebook.com/#!/DontTextandDriveParkview.
