

PARKVIEW PHYSICIANS GROUP

2024

Leadership: Mitchell Stucky, MD, President

Background: Parkview Physicians Group (PPG) is a physician-led and governed division of Parkview Health. PPG was formed by the merger of several independent and market-leading practices, including the former Parkview Medical Group. PPG leadership has recognized both the opportunity and the imperative to build a strategy to create market advantage for the new physician enterprise. The objective is to create a sustainable brand premium based on patient and clinician experience to build loyalty and stimulate demand for Parkview Physicians Group and its services.

Date Founded: Since 2008, PPG has been aligning with physicians who have similar expertise and goals, allowing PPG to provide enhanced and more cost-effective quality care through the shared efficiencies of a larger practice. Today, PPG has grown to include nearly 300 locations (including outreach clinic locations) and has nearly 1,200 providers.

Strategic Goals:

- Alignment with physicians around quality, outcomes, service, access and cost
- Physician leadership
- Ensure community's access to physician services
- Align economic incentives around quality and service excellence
- Tomorrow's reimbursement will be increasingly reliant on quality and outcome
- Measurements, and the integrated delivery model improves opportunity for success
- Our operating environment is increasingly data-dependent, and common information technology will drive both quality and efficiency

Organizational Outline: There are more than 600 physicians employed in Parkview Physicians Group and more than 500 advanced practitioners (nurse practitioners and physician assistants). PPG has a Board of Managers, currently with 16 members. Physician leadership is a key focus, with 14 out of 16 board members being practicing physicians and APPs. The groups are organized by section, either by virtue of primary care focus or specialty care, and are further differentiated by geographic location. Various committees support the strategic and operational intent of PPG.
